| 6. | In early July, it was learned in the area of the SED Bezirk Headquarters in Erfurt that 15.8 percent of this year's high school graduates had been recruited as KVP officer candidates. The target fixed had been 33 percent of all high school graduates. | 25X1 |
| 7. | After Easter 1955, KVP officers almost daily visited the Oberschule (high school for boys) at Oranienburg in order to recruit the 1937 and 1938 classes of this year's high school graduates for service with the KVP. All of the students of 2 classes who were scheduled to complete their studies in June, volunteered for service with the KVP. 3 | |

Of these, a total of 126 candidates were classified as fit for service; 24 had still to report for physical examination; 43 were rejected as unfit; 6 were rejected for miscellaneous reasons, and 51 did not report for the physical examination. Of those who were classified as fit for military service, 59 were inducted into the KVP and 15 into Inner Security units in the second half of April. 1 | |
| 9. | In one GDR Kreis, of 36 party members invited to appear before a recruiting commission, only 32 reported. Workers of agricultural production co-operatives generally reacted favorably to appeals to join the KVP. Employees of government agencies and business clerks generally refused to join the KVP. Contrary to orders issued, the chairmen of the individual recruiting commissions did not simply delegate the party members into the KVP but made efforts to convince them that voluntary service was advisable. | |
| 10. | In early May, it was learned at the Bezirk Registration Office at Chemnitz that 25% of the personnel scheduled to be recruited for the KVP were to be assigned to border police and SfS units. Efforts were continually made to recruit engineers, construction experts and doctors up to 60 years old. These men were to be given officer rank after attending short training courses. The recruiting campaign for the VP-Air and VP-Sea had been stopped. | |

11. Although some Kreis registration agencies managed to fulfill their recruiting quota by mid-May, the total result of the recruiting campaign was considered inadequate. In early June, the monthly recruiting quota of the Bezirk registration offices was increased by 1,500 men. At the same time, new efforts were made to recruit high school students as officer candidates. Former officers who had become SED members were greatly interested in joining the KVP. KVP recruiting activities were scheduled to continue along usual lines after completion of the current recruiting campaign.

- 12. At a conference, it was stated that persons who had not served for two years with the KVP would henceforth have no chance of getting ahead in their professional careers. For the month of July, the recruiting quota was reduced. Only persons who were unwilling to work or to learn volunteered for the KVP. After 20 July, only genuine volunteers were accepted. 2
- 13. In mid-July, the KVP recruiting campaign at the Kirow Works in Leipzig was restricted to a pertinent notice at the bulletinboard of the enterprise. No pressure was brought to bear on young workers.²
- 14. In early May, it was learned at Bad Freienwalde that the induction age for KVP had been raised to 25.
- 15. In late May, it was learned at Templin that young men of the 18 22 classes were to be recruited for the KVP and those of the 23 25 classes for the border police.
- 16. On 1 June, a shipment of young men who had been recruited for the KVP by the Kreis Registration Office at Oranienburg were dispatched from the Schlesischer Bahnhof station in Berlin to Weissenfels. The shipment included a youth who would not be 18 before August 1955.
- 17. In early May, details of propagandists, so-called instructor brigades, were organized by SED Kreis headquarters. These propagandists were to assist plant managers in their recruiting campaign for the KVP, GST and the "fighting groups."
- 18. In late May, about 60 youths completed their training as skilled workers at the Deutsche Werke at Ludwigsfelde. They were forced to volunteer for the KVP. From 35 to 40 young men who yielded to this pressure were shipped to Potsdam on the same day. From Potsdam they were to be sent to Prora.
- 19. On 3 June, it was learned that persons of military age were no longer to be assigned jobs by labor offices.
- 20. On 10 June, of 70 apprentices employed on a construction site at Potsdam 10 declared their readiness to serve with the KVP. They had to sign a statement that they were willing to take their examination as journeymen by 15 June. These apprentices were promised favored treatment and training opportunities after completion of their 2-year term of service. Young persons who rejected service with the KVP are to be excluded from study at technical colleges and professional schools.

| 21. In June, efforts were made in Rostock to recruit personnel for the General Police after members of this branch of the police had been transferred to the KVP. 22. Henceforth, only up to 35% of the members of the crafts mentioned were to be inducted. 1. Comment. The information contained in the present report justifies the tentative conclusion that the recent KVP recruiting campaign succeeded in recruiting 6,000 to 7,000 candidates for the border police and STS units, and approximately 20,000 candidates for the KVP. KVP soldiers (exclusive VP-Sea and VP-Air) discharged in 1955 is estimated at from 15,000 to 18,000 men. This indicates that the actual strength of the KVP has been increased from approximately 88,000 to 90 - 93,000 men. 2. Comment. The KVP recruiting campaign conducted by the SED, PDJ and GST was originally scheduled to be completed by mid-May. The campaign was extended until early July, however. Reports on party activities indicate that no direct pressure was brought to bear during the second half of the recruiting campaign, probably from a general realization that things had been pushed a little too far. 25X1 Comment. It was reported previously that members of the 1937 class: could be recruited for the KVP. | | SECRET | |

Henceforth, only up to 35% of the members of the crafts mentioned were to be inducted. 1. Comment. The information contained in the present report justifies the tentative conclusion that the recent KVP recruiting campaign succeeded in recruiting 6,000 to 7,000 candidates for the border police and SfS units, and approximately 20,000 candidates for the KVP. KVP soldiers (exclusive VP-Sea and VP-Air) discharged in 1955 is estimated at from 15,000 to 18,000 men. This indicates that the actual strength of the KVP has been increased from approximately 38,000 to 90 - 93,000 men. 2. Comment. The KVP recruiting campaign conducted by the SED, FDJ and GST was originally scheduled to be completed by mid-Kay. The campaign was extended until early July, however. Reports on party activities indicate that no direct pressure was brought to bear during the second half of the recruiting campaign, probably from a general realization that things had been pushed a little too far. 25 Comment. It was reported previously that members of the 1937 class could be recruited for the KVP. | | - 4 - | |
